Reading Comprehension:

The cultural context can also influence life expectancy for men and women. (Life expectancy is the expected length of a person's life.) For example, women generally smoke cigarettes less than men, which has been proven to cause many health problems and to shorten lives.

Another factor that has influenced the lives of women is the lack of stress. Stress is well known to shorten lives. Until recently, women who worked were usually in less responsible, less stressful positions. At home, housework tends to keep women in better physical condition than men. This generally better physical condition is yet another factor in women's longer lives.

These cultural factors have played an important part for the women who are now getting old. But the social habits of women are changing. Young women are smoking more than women used to. More women are working now and holding more responsible positions. These changes may mean that the cultural context will no longer help women live healthier lives. However, women will continue to live longer than men because of certain other factors.

- a. why women are no longer willing to stay home and do housework
- b. the reasons behind the change in different countries' culture around the world
- c. factors other than cultural factors in relation to women's living longer than men
- d. how a healthy lifestyle is important for both men and women in today's ever-changing world

58- It can he understood from the passage that the author considers cigarette smoking to

- a. become more common among women than it is now among men
- b. have a relationship with the amount of stress in people's lives
- c. be more harmful to women than to men
- d. be a culture-related habit

59- It can be understood from the passage that men can improve their physical condition by

- a. doing housework
- b. giving their jobs to women
- c. working jobs with more responsibility
- d. taking better care of their health problems

60- Which of the following statements is TRUE, according to the passage?

- a. Women in the past did not smoke because it was considered a socially negative habit.
- b. The difference in life expectancy between men and women is very likely to become smaller.
- c. Women's health problems and those of men are similar in terms of both their causes and effects.
- d. If women realize their health problems are because of their new social roles, they would renew their past habits.

take temperature - physician - regard - dedicated - spare no pains distinguished - not surprisingly - found

Sara has been in the Children's Medical Center for a week. She has caught a terrible flu. The doctor told her to stay there to get better. There is a photograph of an old man on the wall.

While the nurse is taking her temperature, they start talking.

Sara: Excuse me, who is that man in the picture?

Nurse: Oh, don't you know him? Have you ever heard of Dr. Mohammad Gharib?

Sara: I guess I have only seen his name in my English book, but I'm not sure about it.

Nurse: Dr. Gharib was a famous physician.

Sara: Oh,... can you tell me a little about his life?

Nurse: Dr. Gharib was born in Tehran in 1288. After receiving his diploma, he went abroad to study medicine. In 1316 he became a physician and then came back to his homeland. In 1347 this center was founded by Dr. Gharib and one of his close friends.

Sara: Really? I didn't know that.

Nurse: Dr. Gharib was also a generous man. He spared no pains to cure sick children. He was very friendly and helpful to poor families. Not surprisingly, he was regarded as a dedicated physician.

Sara: It's a pity! I didn't know such a great man.

Nurse: He was known as a distinguished university professor, too. The first Persian textbook on children's diseases was written by him. He taught medicine to thousands of students.

Sara: Oh, what a great man he was!

Nurse: By the way, it might be interesting to know that your physician was one of Dr. Gharib's students!

Sara: Really?! That's interesting!
